Once assembled, it sounds and works. I looked at the Tim YouTube and saw how to correct because it's a new figure. The sensitivity is also poorly controlled. Lack of material information or a circuit drawing is correct properly, or I would have a hard to introduce YouTube to explain how to correct.

Item Description

1.Add an RF amplifier to improve RF reception performance.
2.Add an audio amplifier to solve the problem of extremely low volume of USB single-sideband, and the effect is obvious.
3.Redesign PIN and RF Jumpers Wires.
4.The PCB board is added to the input terminal for electrostatic protection and strong signal protection when transmitting in the UV section of dual antennas.
5.Use PPC soft board, the board thickness is 0.2mm, safe and reliable without short circuit, and the installation does not support the speaker.

In the dual antenna solution, an additional level of band pass filtering is added to the antenna input end, and a feeder and SPA head are used to an RF amplifier to ensure that the signal-to-noise ratio of the receiver is not affected by the antenna.
The PPC soft board uses a double-sided slot, which is easier to connect to the machine.
Suitable for Quansheng UV-K5/K6 and UV-K5(8).
It is suitable for Quansheng UV-K5/K6 Mk ii to install SSTV soft-based FM and nearby HF shortwave full-band reception/single-sideband reception. It is suitable for single-antenna and dual antenna.
